Note: VND = Vietnamese Dong. The official exchange at the time of survey (2015) was: USD 1 = VND 22,355 [2]. The average income of a person per month at the time of survey (2005) was therefore USD 52.

This preprint is a reading of the document “Biểu 2TN: Thu nhập bình quân nhân khẩu 1 tháng và tỷ trọng các nguồn thu năm 2015 chia theo giới tính và trình độ giáo dục của chủ hộ” [1] from the extracted data set from Vietnam’s national survey on 53 ethnic minorities, conducted in 2015. This national survey followed the Decision No. 02/QĐ-TTg, dated January 5, 2015, on the government’s approval of the proposal on researching, collecting data on the socio-economic reality of 53 ethnic minorities living in the Social Republic of Vietnam [3].

The original document was obtained from open deposition, publicly available at www.ubdt.gov.vn, the official web portal of the Committee for Ethnic Minority Affairs (CEMA), part of the government of Vietnam.

This work is part of the research project AISDL-53EMS-Summary, in a sequel to the concept of reusability of open data [4], which helps to inform socio-economic studies, and policies, at lower costs [5].
