Genius

Ho Manh Toan

Hanoi, 11-10-2021

At the Golden Globe Awards 2016, Jim Carrey carried out one of the funniest speeches ever [1]. The passage was transcribed on GQ [1]:

"Thank you, I am two-time Golden Globe winner Jim Carrey," Carrey deadpanned after being introduced as "two-time Golden Globe winner Jim Carrey." "You know, when I go to sleep at night, I'm not just a guy going to sleep. I'm two-time Golden Globe winner Jim Carrey going to get some well-needed shut-eye.

"And when I dream," he continued, "I don't just dream any old dream. No, sir. I dream about being three-time Golden Globe-winning actor Jim Carrey. Because then I would be enough. It would finally be true, and I could stop this terrible search, for what I know ultimately won't fulfill me.

"But these are important, these awards," Carrey concluded. "I don't want you to think that just because if you blew up our solar system alone you wouldn't be able to find us or any of human history with the naked eye. But from our perspective, this is huge."

Listening to this, immediately, I thought:

"I am 12-papers-a-year researcher [2-59]. When I go to sleep at night, I'm not just a guy going to sleep. I'm 12-papers-a-year Manh-Toan going to get some well-need shut-eye. And when I dream, I don't just dream any old dream. No, sir. I dream about being 50-papers-a-year Manh-Toan."

By then, I would be a genius, I would be enough, I would be fulfilled, and ... I would be ... well ... intellectually dead.
